NAHASHON MWANGI AUTOBIOGRAPHY

INTRODUCTION

- The essay starts on a high note by describing the day I was born.
- I entered the world on a bright day in 2003 at Bahati District Hospital, where I made my debut weighing a healthy 3.5 kilograms.
- I grew up a healthy kid, my friends even nicknamed me “bonge”.
- My family consist of five members, my dad, my mom, my big brother, me and lastly my younger brother.
- Bahati is our original home, I grew up in this and leaned a lot about community value.
- Growing up in the outskirts of Nakuru city, I was surrounded by a vibrant community of farmers who shared a deep connection with the land.

NAKURU

- Nakuru City is a vibrant and bustling hub nestled in the heart of Kenya's Great Rift Valley.
- Known for its scenic beauty and rich biodiversity, the city is a gateway to some of the country's most famous natural attractions, including Lake Nakuru National Park, home to flamingos and diverse wildlife.
- Nakuru's streets are alive with energy, reflecting a blend of modern development and cultural heritage. Bustling markets offer a tapestry of sights, sounds, and flavours, where traders sell everything from fresh produce to traditional crafts.
- The city's diverse population contributes to its lively atmosphere, with people from various backgrounds coming together to create a dynamic and welcoming community.
- Nakuru is a city where tradition and progress coexist, offering a unique blend of urban life and natural beauty.

EARLY LIFE

- My early life was deeply intertwined with the events of the 2007 election in Kenya, a period that brought significant changes to my community.
- The election's impact was felt across the country, and our area saw new families relocating to seek safety and stability.
- This influx of new neighbours brought diverse perspectives and opportunities to forge lasting friendships.
- Among these new friends were children with whom I explored our surroundings and shared stories, adding rich layers to my childhood experiences.

EARLY EDUCATION

- My early education began with a journey that was both memorable and formative.
- At four years old.
- I attended Murungaru Primary School from the year 2009-2016
- Then joined St John's Secondary School Bahati in the year 2017 up to 2020

CAREER INTERESTS

- My career interest developed right from the beginning of high school
- My favorite subjects were business studies and computer studies
- As part of the curriculum, I was required to select a career subject for my KCSE exams.
- Both business studies and computer studies were offered in the same category, and I had to choose between them.
- Given my strong performance and deep passion for business studies, I decided to focus on this subject for my exams.

HIGHER LEARNING EDUCATION

- Embarking on my higher education journey at Dedan Kimathi University of Technology has been a transformative experience
- It has shaped my academic and personal growth in profound ways
- Enrolled in the Business Information Technology (BBIT) course, I was given a unique opportunity to explore and develop my ambitions in both business and ICT
- My transition to university life was made smoother thanks to the unwavering support of my big brother, Joel Mbaria and my family at large

OPTIMISMS

- Looking ahead, I remain dedicated to my craft and optimistic about the future.
- The foundation laid during my studies in Business Information Technology has positioned me to pursue various opportunities in the business and technology sectors.
- I am excited about the prospects that await and am committed to leveraging my skills and experiences to contribute positively to the field

CONCLUSION

- As I approach the culmination of my journey towards earning a Bachelor's degree in Business Information Technology, I reflect on the path that has brought me here with a profound sense of accomplishment and determination.
- My educational journey, marked by both challenges and triumphs, has been a testament to my resilience and commitment.
- From navigating the demands of high school and overcoming the difficulties of rural education to excelling in university despite financial constraints, each step has contributed to my growth and development
